

The Harry Gosling Herald

At this time each year, every class takes part in a four week unit of learning with an international theme. Each class studies a different country and continent. This week, Year 4 worked with an artist from Education Group, who taught them about the importance of colour in African masks and helped them paint their own. They also rehearsed and performed dances, using traditional and street styles of African dance.

Best wishes, Jennie

WHAT ARE YOU READ-ING THIS WEEK?

Leona from Lilac Class is reading 'Winter Term at Malory Towers' by Enid Blyton/Pamela Cox. "It helps me to generate ideas for my learning because it has great noun phrases and interesting things to read. It has no pictures in it but it is written in so much detail that you can imagine what it is like. The book is about two young teenage girls that go to boarding school. At Malory Towers, the French mistress, Mam'zelle Dupoint, always falls for tricks.!"
